LA LINGUA LA VITA

COURSE EMBROIDERY AND MACRAME'

Italian language course in the morning and embroidery/macramé courses in the afternoon.

A new type of foreign language learning, this course accommodates those interested in the art of embroidery while learning Italian. It is taught by an expert textile designer from Todi, who will teach traditional Italian embroidery techniques, and give students the opportunity to create different types of embroidered pictures to take home.

TEACHING is based on two key moments of learning, the collective and the individual. The first concerns lessons in class, where Italian language grammar and structures are studied and practiced both inside and around town, with the guidance of one of our highly skilled Italian language teachers. The second includes the study of techniques aimed at creating embroidery and lace on lingerie and other household objects chosen by the student.

THE CITY that hosts these courses is TODI, in Umbria, the 'Green Heart of Italy.' It is a medieval town that sits atop a hill in the lush greenery of the Umbrian countryside.

THE COURSE is a minimum of one week, Monday to Friday, with 20 hours of Italian language group classes held each morning from 9am-1pm. The embroidery course instead is at the discretion of the student who can choose to study 10, 20, 30 or more hours during the week. The courses take place in old buildings adjacent to the main square of the city, only a couple of minutes walking distance from the school.

ACCOMMODATION is provided in selected family homes or in private apartments either in or near the center of Todi. Expected arrival is on Sunday at the host family or in a private apartment.
